

2016/2017 Social Sciences Undergraduate Student Research Award Recipients

Fall Competition

Eminet Dagnachew, Social Work

Project Title: Academics, Ableism and Intersections: Exploring the Experiences of Female Undergraduate Students with Self-Identified Physical and/or Learning Disabilities

Carolyn Ralph, Social Work

Project Title: "Only 2 Students in the Store" – Using Photovoice to Expose and Address Individual, Cultural and Structural Forms of Adulthood and Ephebiphobia in Hamilton

Natalie Thirakul, Economics & Sociology

Project Title: The Role of Health Policy on Mental Health Care Services Use by Asian Immigrant Groups in Canada

Summer Competition

James Ankers, Political Science

Project Title: The Quality of Democracies in East and Southeast Asia

Anthony Battaglia, Psychology, Neuroscience and Behaviour

Project Title: Adverse childhood experiences: predisposing soldiers on PTSD and moral injury?

Madison Brockbank, Social Work

Project Title: Examining how young men understand sexual violence on Canadian University campuses

Leticia Cubas, Anthropology

Project Title: Food Insecurity on Hamilton's Upper West Mountain

Emma Holmes, Economics

Project Title: Crying Over Spilled Milk: The Impact of Supply Management in the Dairy Sector on Canada

Jason Lau, Anthropology

Project Title: Producing Public Archaeology: Stelida Naxos Archaeological Project

Grace Martin, Gerontology & Health Studies

Project Title: Exploring Factors that Influence the Resiliency of Low-Income Older Adults

Stephanie Morningstar, Anthropology

Project Title: What Plant is This?: Creating Accessible and Integrative Traditional Ecological Knowledge Translation and Exchange for Our Communities

Benjamin Owens, Labour Studies

Project Title: The Evolution of the Struggle for a Living Wage in Hamilton, Ontario. From Gendered Discourse to the "Fight for Fifteen"

Rachel Persaud, Social Psychology

Project Title: Dismantling Internalized Racism in McMaster's Women of Colour

Jillian Scott, Geography

Project Title: Night Walkability of Hamilton, Ontario as Viewed by the City's Deaf Community

Carly Stephens, Social Psychology

Project Title: The Social Psychology of Green Infrastructure